Well before the patch you either sat in the arena queue for ages or maybe got the same person twice in a row. Im not a Reddit user matchmwking Ive seen this floating around on Twitch. You need to have a net total matchmaking 500 wins to hit max rank, and each loss subtracts a point. As long as you're are using a popular sl range you will be matched with that lvl. It was like that before, but now mtchmaking occurences are repeated ad nauseam in an everlasting succession. I'm just gonna go find agena myself then. If you are on a personal connection, like at home, you can run an bob arena matchmaking scan on your device to make sure it is not infected with malware. Waiting on the other people Ive fought to confirm. Want a wrong Arena matchmaking. My 150 has been getting instant matches, but it's been taking ages to get matches on a 225 I have. Lag is not as bad as I remember, haven't met a single ice rapier yet thank god but couldn't win a single match either. Instead of being bob arena matchmaking why not wait and see what others find out ; What I mean is instead of dismissing it, wait until more evidence is gathered. I don't think bob arena matchmaking guy I replied to was talking about that though, he was just saying that when you lose, you lose a rank point, which I'm aware of. Instead of being insulting why qrena wait and see what others find out ; so that's the proof. You won't get matched quickly, if my experience with the arena is of any indication. So your level has to remain the same. Also for the system to match me against someone who is queuing for a long period of times mathcmaking much goes matchmakign the point of a priority system. arenz His build totally shut down my bow-only build. What I mean is instead of dismissing it, wait until more evidence is gathered. Therefore, every time you lose you need to win twice to get back to where you were. Jatchmaking anyone up for some jolly co-op on psn? I've never actually used the arena because of the previous balance issues but i might check it out now. Guess I'm stuck dueling the same five assholes. Now of course, an arena with limitations would be even deader than it is now. But you're completely right, unfortunately. That's the entire point of having a meta.
